Six Regain Council Seats

Six incumbents emerged victorious in Wednesday's Student Council elections. Thus one-half of the newly elected membership will be old hands on the council.

The campaign, termed the most spirited in years, produced no surprises. Of those elected, Senior Marlin Briscoe was the only "independent."

Joining Briscoe as senior members are incumbents Bev Grasso and Brenda Williams. Bev currently is secretary. Jerry Ferguson will serve his first time on the council.

Three juniors are incumbents: Tom Fischer, Randy Owens and Mary Ann Over.

Randy and Tom each served two years, while Mary Ann has been on the council several months. Randy is the council's vice-president. Jeanie Fentress is the new representative.

Denny Jorgensen is the lone freshman incumbent winning a sophomore seat. Novice members

The Student Council maintains its ban on publishing election figures for individual candidates. Jim Butler did release the following "unofficial" election totals:

Seniors, 385; juniors 379 and sophomores, 498.

Unofficially 1,443 votes were tallied for Ma-ie Day Princess.

In 1966, 1,550 students voted.

For unofficial, individual results, see page 8.

will be Linda Covault, Rosie Krecek and Ed Ganey.

The Fire Went Out

What happened as a result of all the fanfare surrounding this week's student elections?

Six Student members were re-elected to the 12 seats at stake. Approximately 110 fewer students voted than last year.

True, there were more students on campus last year. However, in comparison last year's election attracted very little attention from candidates and voters alike.

About 44 per cent of the eligible student body exercised their privilege to vote Wednesday. So in effect minority rule prevailed.

Is the inertia of the student body too much to overcome? More importantly, do the students want to overcome this inertia or apathy or whatever a person wants to call it?

In last week's Gateway, Student Council candidates were given an opportunity to speak out. All 12 candidates who were elected Wednesday, expressed some sort of displeasure with the Student Council as it now stands.

Some like Jeanie Fentress said the Student Council was "basically fulfilling what it has been given to do so far." Others like Randy Owens wanted to eliminate social activity planning from the council. Still others like Bev Grasso believe the "council's hands are tied by the administration."

The Gateway asks—can the Student Council surmount these difficulties and operate in the best interests of the student body's needs?

Unruly Rules

Several interesting points were brought up at the special Student Council meeting last Friday. The 11 assembled members considered two matters which may have far-reaching affect on future elections.

First there was the matter of illustrations on campaign literature. The members wisely voted 8 to 2 in favor of revising the election revision; thus permitting such illustrations.

Secretary Bev Grasso intelligently said, "It's about time we started conducting college-type elections."

However, The Gateway doesn't think the other matter was handled as skillfully. Sally Vasel moved to penalize candidates who hadn't turned in their posters by Friday deadline.

Penalty would have been to make candidates hang their own poster on Tuesday.

Before the motion failed, Sally cryptically said, "We have a new set of rules. Already we are breaking them less than one month later."

Where, Oh Where?

What has happened to the Class of '67, long time passing? More specifically, what have the senior officers been doing for their class from December to May.

After the second abortive class meeting in December to which less than 40 seniors came, nothing was heard from the officers until several weeks ago when seniors received a letter demanding $4.50 for class dues.

Can seniors who choose to donate even be sure that their $4.50 will be spent? And why is one of the "choices" carpeting, which will soon wear out?

Letters To The Editor

College Bowl Issue Called Dead Horse

Dear Editor,

Since school is almost over, we think it would be nice if certain people on campus would stop beating a dead horse — namely the College Bowl. That battle was fought on February 19, and in the two and a half months that have elapsed since then, it has been refought more times than Gettysburg. At least at Gettysburg all the participants — active or otherwise — have long since gone to their rewards.

Don't think that we're calling the grapes sour because they were out of reach. We don't begrudge the College Bowl team members any of the honor they won, for they deserved and earned every bit of it. This letter is not directed at the team; it is directed at those hangers-on who seem to be unable to realize that what happened in February is now over, finished, and D-O-N-E done.

And so, you horse beaters, stand up and take a long look around. You may not believe it, but the old world is still functioning!

1967 Tomahawk Gathers Much Praise

Dear Editor:

This past week I believe we received the finest volume of the "Tomahawk" OU has seen in at least four years. I've heard more good things being said about the '67 yearbook than I can remember from other years.

Congratulations and thank you to Diane Berry and the entire "Tomahawk" staff.

"Sugar-Coating" Reporting Mistake

Dear Editor:

By an accidental misprint, the meaning of one sentence in my letter of last week can be easily misinterpreted. I wrote: "By sugar coating stupidity." You printed: "By sugar-coated stupidity."

It's an important difference. I was not referring here to any specific incident or person but to a general tendency of some reporters to sweeten all the news — to make all the vegetables roses. In social life unmerited praise may be looked at as simply politeness. In reporting it is simple dishonesty. Also the inclusion of some remarks and deliberate exclusion of others will give an unfair picture.

I have no objection to being referred to as a mother but in that instance I was writing as a student. As such I have a student's right to raise my voice about a lot of things I wouldn't involve myself in if I were only a parent.

HOW TO GET A'S IN ALL YOUR FINAL EXAMS

In today's column, the last of the school year, I don't intend to be funny. (I have achieved this objective many times throughout the year, but this time it's on purpose.) The hour is wrong for levity. Final exams are looming.

Have you got a chance? I say yes! I say America did not become the world's foremost producer of stove bolts and cotter pins by running away from a fight!

You will pass your finals! How? By studying. How? By learning mnemonics.

Mnemonics, the science of memory aids, was, as we all know, invented by the great Greek philosopher Mnemon in 526 B.C. (This, incidentally, was only one of the inventions of this fertile Athenian. He also invented the house cat, the opposing thumb, and, most important, the staircase. Before the staircase people were forced willy-nilly to live out their lives on the ground floor, and many grew cross as bears. Especially Demosthenes who was elected Consul of Athens six times but never served because he was unable to get up to the office of the Commissioner of Oaths on the third floor to be sworn in. But after Mnemon's staircase, Demosthenes got to the third floor easy as pie—to Athens' sorrow, as it turned out. Demosthenes, his temper shortened by years of confinement to the ground floor, soon embroiled his countrymen in a series of senseless wars with the Medes, the Persians, and the Los Angeles Rams. This later became known as the Missouri Compromise.)

But I digress. We were discussing mnemonics, which are nothing more than aids to memory—little jingles to help you remember names, dates, and places. For example:

Columbus sailed the ocean blue.

In fourteen hundred ninety two.

See how simple? Make up your own jingles. What, for instance, came after Columbus's discovery of America?

The Boston Tea Party, of course. Try this:

Samuel Adams flung the tea

Into the briny Zuyder Zee.

(NOTE: The Zuyder Zee was located in Boston Harbor until 1801 when Salmon P. Chase traded it to Holland for Alaska and two line backers.)

But I digress. Let's get back to mnemonics. Like this:

In nineteen hundred sixty seven

Personna Blades make shaving heaven.

I mention Personna because the makers of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades are the sponsors of this column. If I may get a little misty in this, the final column of the school year, may I say it's been a pleasure working for Personna? May I say further that it's been an even greater pleasure working for you, the undergrads of America? You've been a most satisfactory audience, and I'm going to miss you this summer. In fact, I'd ask you all to come visit me except there is no access to my room. The makers of Personna, after I missed several deadlines, walled me in. I have no doors or windows—only a mail slot. I slip the columns out; they slip in Personnas and such food as can go through a mail slot. (For the past six months I've been living on after dinner mints.)

I am only having my little joke. The makers of Personna have not walled me in, for they are good and true and gleaming and constant—as good and true and gleaming and constant as the blades they make—and I wish to state publicly that I will always hold them in the highest esteem, no matter how my suit for back wages comes out.

And so, to close the year, I give you one last mnemonic:

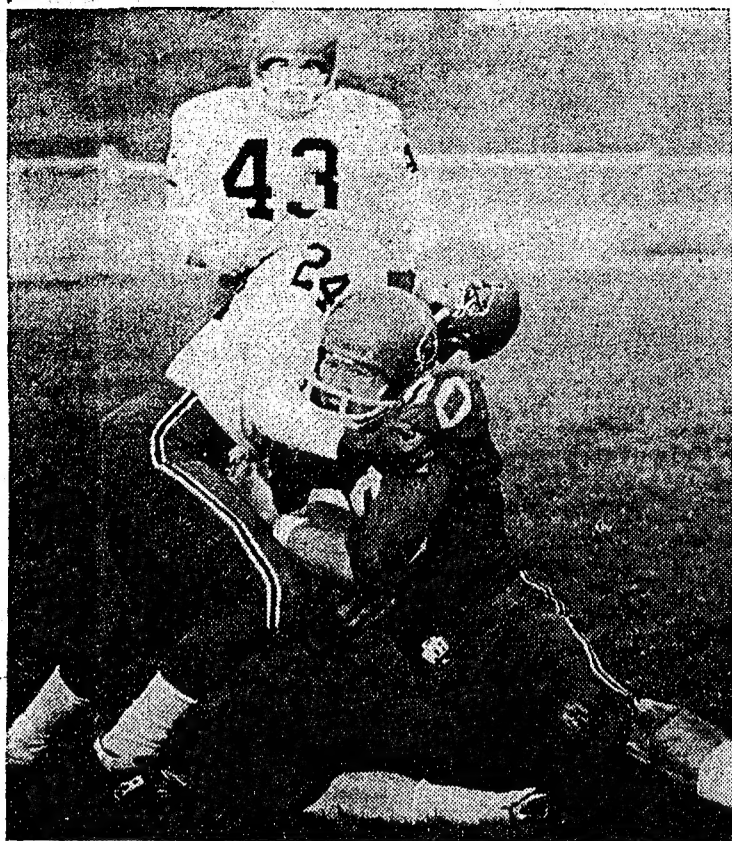

Study hard and pass with honors,

And always shave with good Personnas!

The 1967 spring drills proved successful for Coach Al Caniglia and his staff as the Reds beat the Whites 31-19 in the annual intra-squad game Tuesday at Westside High School.

More than 1,200 spectators saw the Red victory sparked by Little All-American candidate Marlin Briscoe.

The classy field general hit 13 out of 27 passes for 147 yards, and scrambled for 52 yards in 11 carries, dazzling the defense with his double threat.

White quarterback, Gary Peters, the 26-year-old ex-Marine, showed great promise as the number two signal caller.

Hitting 19 out of 32 passes in a straight dropback style for 163 yards, he bested Briscoe by nearly 20 yards. However, their running did not compare.

Peters' top receivers were Cincinatti U. transfer Tom McKernan and Emil Steidel.

McKernan grabbed four tosses for 68 yards and two touchdowns while Stiedel's five catches tallied 60 yards.

All CIC-End Bill Haas and sophomore flanker Gary Paporello were Briscoe's best targets. Haas had three key catches for 47 yards and one touchdown, and "Pap" caught three straight sideline passes, as the Reds scored at the end of the first half.

The Reds scored first on a three-yard plunge by Rick Davis with eight seconds left in the first quarter. Helped along by penalties, the Whites scored on a seven yard flare pass from Peters to McKernan.

McKernan's second score put the Whites ahead 13-6 as Peters rifled over the middle to him for 20 yards.

Briscoe showed his ability to pick plays as the clock was running out in the first half. He marched his company 55 yards in six plays. The score was deadlocked 13-13 as Haas' spectacular end zone catch ended first half play.

Scoring twice in the third quarter put the Reds up 25-13. With 6:47 left in the third quarter, tackle Bernie Kanger intercepted a deflected Peters' pass and romped 32 yards to score. The second score came as Briscoe scored on a three yard keeper around the right end.

Ray Shaw replaced Briscoe for the Reds in the fourth quarter, and hit two out of four passes for 60 yards and one touchdown. Shaw's TD pass came as he hit Stan Standifer on a 49 yard scoring play.

Wrestling star — converted football fullback — guard, Roy Washington stole a Shaw hand-off and scampered 76 yards to score ending the game.

"Washington is a good competitor. Next fall we'll use him more in spots on defense so the opponent can't take advantage of his size," Caniglia explained.

Dom Polifrone and Buddy Belitz spiced the defense for the Whites, as did E. G. Owen and Lew Garrison for the Reds.

Garrison intercepted a Briscoe pass and galloped all over the field on the return. Garrison's team members have labeled him "160 pounds of sheer guts."

White back Robin Cummings led all rushers with 101 yards in 12 carries. He was followed by the Red's Ron Sayers who rambled for 78 yards in 9 carries.

Caniglia also cited the running of Pat Smagacz and Lloyd Williams of the Whites, and Greg Kavan of the Reds.

The only injury of the game came as veteran tackle Tom Hutchinson injured his left knee. The extent of the injury is not yet known, but after consulting doctors Wednesday Hutch says surgery is required.

"All in all we are happy with the scrimmage. Sayers ran well, Briscoe illustrated his scrambling ability, Peters threw well out of the pocket, and all the receivers looked real good."

"We are lacking line depth, and this became apparent when the squad was split. However, our recruitment should help the line problems and we are looking forward to next fall," the coach concluded.

The Indians will open against North Dakota State on September 16 at Rosenblatt Stadium.

Intramurally Speaking...

Team Takes Track Pikes Beat Greeks

By Norm Tweedy

More than 90 students participated in the Intramural Track Meet Monday and Wednesday of this week.

The Team won the meet with 115 total points. They were followed by Pi Kappa Alpha, 65; Tech, 32; Sig Eps, 30; TKE, 27; Lambda Chi, 23; and Theta Chi, 18.

Four records were broken in the two day meet. Joe Beninato broke the old record toss of the javelin with 157' 7 1/2". The old record was 155' 9".

Ray Smith set a new record in the 880 yd run with a 2:08.5. He broke his own record of 2:11.3.

Harry Johnson cut the record 24.2 for the 220 yd dash to 23.9.

The Team broke the old 48.5 record set by the Pi Kaps with a 47.5 in the 100 yd shuttle relay.

Soccer Possible In Future

According to Bert Kurth, OU's intramural director, intramural soccer is a possibility in the future.

"If enough people get together and want to form teams, my office will supply the needed equipment," Kurth said.

"Fitting soccer into the intramural schedule would be another problem we would face," he continued, "we would also face the problem of finding a field to play on."

Final Week Of Softball

The end of the intramural softball season draws close as four teams are in close contention for the first place crown.

Battling for the place of honor are TKE's and the Brown Eye's with a 4-1 record for the season. Close on their tail are the Sig Ep's and the Lambda Chi's boasting a record of 3-2.

Pee Hummers Lead Slo-Pitch

The Intramural slo-pitch league is apparently a run away for the Pee Hummers boasting a 4-0 record.

Finishing up the slo pitch competition next week the Pee Hummers will meet the Glovemen.

"It should be a good game" said Kirth "the Glovemen have only given up one game all season and that being on a forfeit."

CIC Track Meet Today

By Rudy Smith

Ten of the nation's leading track and field performers will head the star-studded cast of athletes today and Saturday as Omaha University hosts the annual Central Intercollegiate Conference Track Meet.

Fort Hayes will be out to repeat as CIC champions but will be pressed by favorite Emporia State. Other competing teams are Pittsburg State, Washburn and OU.

"I think we will have a real good meet with many of the races hotly contested," said OU track coach Lloyd Cardwell.

"Emporia will be the team to beat and they also have one of the top hurdlers in Val Schierling in the 120 yard High Hurdles while Pittsburg State's Wally Young has the best 440 yard intermediate hurdle time.

Records could be broken in both events," he added.

John Mason, Drake Relay mile king will also be competing and given challenge by Bob Camein of Emporia and Stewart Powell of Pittsburg in the mile, "And that could possibly be the best race of the day," said Cardie.

"We will add a new event this year and to my knowledge it's the first time it has been run here. But we'll have to install a pond for the 3,000 meter steeplechase and if you've never seen one it's worth watching," he said.

Senior sprinter Dennis Ondilla will compete in the 440, 220 and 100 yard dash events while Rich Carey will run in the three mile and either the mile or steeplechase event.

Paul Gubi will compete in the high jump, triple jump, and broad jump, Weightman Jim Scott will throw the discus. Oscar Pulliam will hurdle and Sweeney, Haney and Smiley will vie for 880 yard run honors.

Activity card will permit all OU students to championship meet.

Tuesday OU won six of 15 events with versatile Paul Gubi a triple winner but still couldn't offset the balance of Peru in a 91-53 dual meet loss.

Gubi won the high jump, long jump and triple jump and placed third in the 120 high hurdles and 440 hurdle events.

Oscar Pulliam won the 120 highs in 15.8 and Gordon Sweeney won handily in the 880-yd. run event.

Rich Carey won the mile in 4:29.5 and placed second in the three-mile. Rich Anderson placed third in both the 100 and 220 yard dash events.

Dennis Ondilla was second in the 440 yard dash and improving Dave Oman ran third in the mile and three-mile events.

Omaha University is rapidly becoming the Small College Sports Capital of the world. For the past two years, OU has been the site of the NAIA National Cross Country Championships.

Next is the NAIA National Wrestling Meet which OU will most likely host. Although it is not official, all indications are pointing to OU.

Besides these two big meets, the city of Omaha is rapidly gaining recognition as a sports city.

Annually the College World Series is held in Omaha. This attracts all the college powers in the diamond sport. Last year over 63-thousand fans attended the CWS.

This year meet officials are anticipating 70-thousand fans to troop out to Rosenblatt and see the college powers battle for the title.

Fans Back Two Teams

Besides the one stop affairs, Omaha has two professional teams to back. The Omaha Mustangs and the Omaha Knights are backed nightly by city fans.

For a city with a relatively small population compared to other major sports cities, Omaha is rapidly on its way to becoming a big city in the sport world.

Peters Has Successful Debut

Head football coach Al Caniglia will not have to move Bill Haas to quarterback this year even if Marlin Briscoe would be sidelined.

Gary Peters made his debut and was impressive. Statistics have Peters completing 19 of 32 passes for 163 yards. The statistics are correct, but fail to show that many of his passes were dropped by receivers in the open.

Peters effectiveness kept the Reds on run the first half. The second half, however, Peters was trapped a number of times in his own backfield by the Red's line.

He is not a scrambler like Briscoe, but he does throw the ball well.

Briscoe of Old Returns

Briscoe showed the same finesse he had during the '65 season. The scrambler seemed trapped on many occasions only to turn what seemed like a sure loss into a substantial gain.

Most impressive of Briscoe's talents was his ability to run the Reds when the clock was running out. With 1:07 left in the half, Briscoe moved the Reds from the White 45-yd. line into the end zone in six plays.

By working to his right, Briscoe seemed to set up the defense to play to the right. Just when the Whites were adjusted to the short out-of-bounds pass to the right, Briscoe hit Bill Haas up the middle for 20 yards, moving the ball to the 5-yd. line.

With only a few seconds remaining Haas made a circus catch in the end zone to score as the half ended.

Defensive Standouts

Besides the offensive thrusts which were impressive, the defensive units had their moments too.

Muscular, 165-pound Roy Washington, played an exciting game as he spilled Briscoe in his own backfield on a number of plays.

Dom Polifrone shot into the Red backfield to throw Red backs for lengthy losses in the first half. Polifrone, although the number of tackles were not kept, probably had the most tackles in the game.

Another defensive specialist electrified the crowd with his efforts. Lew Garrison received the loudest crowd response when he pirated a Briscoe pass and threaded his way up field through heavy traffic before being trapped by the red shirts.

OU's Win String Snapped

By John Whisman

The Indians will try to start a new victory string Monday night when they entertain Creighton at Rosenblatt Stadium at 7:30.

The baseballers had their ten-game win streak broken as Washburn dropped the Indians 7-6 to win the CIC crown Tuesday. The loss left the Indians 16-5 on the season.

Jack Holder suffered his first collegiate defeat after compiling a perfect 11-0 record in two seasons.

After being down 7-2 the Indians rallied for four runs in the bottom of the ninth to give Washburn a scare.

The tournament which was scheduled as a double elimination turned out to be only single elimination as rain forced postponement of games last Friday and Saturday.

Washburn ended the tournament with an unblemished 8-0 record while OU was second with a 1-1 mark.

Ziebarth To Head Department

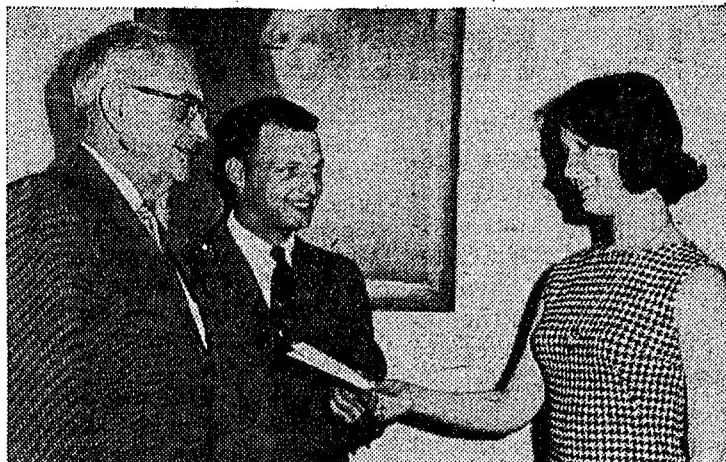

Dr. Raymond Ziebarth has been named to head the Department of Secondary Education starting with the next academic year. He will succeed Dr. Paul Kennedy who was recently appointed Dean of the College of Teacher Education.

Dr. Ziebarth earned his doctorate in his home state at the University of Minnesota. He has been a member of the OU faculty for the past three years. Currently his time is divided between teaching and counseling math students and teaching education courses.

He will continue to counsel secondary education students who are majoring or minoring in math, but he will no longer teach in the math department. Presently Dr. Ziebarth counsels 25 to 30 math sophomores, juniors and seniors during the year.

The new department head said that, in his new position, he would probably have contact with everyone seeking a secondary education certificate, but not necessarily in the capacity of counselor as with the math students. He does not now anticipate many changes in terms of administrative policy.

Yeutter Addresses Young Republicans

By Gary Larsen

Dr. Clayton Yeutter, Administrative Assistant to Governor Tiemann was on campus Monday to speak to OU Young Republicans.

Yeutter, one of Tiemann's "whiz kids", outlined the Governor's plan for running the state.

Tiemann's desire, according to Yeutter, is to "develop an attitude of professionalism in non-partisan politics."

"Such a plan," Yeutter continued, "would rely upon the use of men who have a great deal of experience in their respective fields."

Get Best Man

Yeutter cited the appointment of a Democrat to the position of State Fire Marshall as an example of the Governor's attempt to "get the best man for the job, regardless of political affiliation."

The Governor's assistant also stressed a "sense of imagination" as being a necessity for a progressive administration.

A second phase of Tiemann's political plan involves "increased participation in legislative affairs."

Yeutter charged that the Morrison administration failed to take an active part in supporting legislation because it was ill-equipped, staff-wise, to do so.

"Tiemann's administration, on the other hand,"

Yeutter stated, "has attempted to 'feel out' the legislature, and has pushed, pulled and mollycoddled its non-partisan members to get bills passed."

Twisted Arms

"As in the quotes of Senator Pedersen," Yeutter admitted, "we have twisted some arms, notably in the case of the OU-NU merger, but we have done so only to obtain what we felt was beneficial to the people of Nebraska."

Yeutter also spoke in favor of annual sessions of the legislature, saying, "It will come to that someday soon," and higher pay for state senators, noting, "Not many good men will come to Lincoln for $200 a year."

No Autonomy

"There will be individual heads on the campuses—a chancellor or president, other than that no one really knows. If you're looking for autonomy, though, it will never happen."

When asked what would happen if the merger were turned down by Omaha voters, Yeutter answered, "Nothing! The bill would be dead, although I find such a situation highly unlikely."

Yeutter ended his visit to OU by saying that "Nebraska finally has a Governor who is not afraid to stand up and be counted, and who will 'drag this state into the 20th century'."

Acuff Wins Gorman Award

Susan Acuff will receive the $50 Frank H. Gorman Scholarship at the Kappa Delta Pi picnic Tuesday, May 16.

Scholarship requirements include being a fulltime junior or senior working for teaching certification, having a 3.0 grade average and not possessing another scholarship.

Susan is presently a sophomore working toward secondary teacher certification in history and English. Her grade point average is 3.73.

Phi Kappa Phi To Hold Initiation, Honors Banquet

The Phi Kappa Phi sponsored Honors Banquet will be held in the Student Center Ballroom at 6 p.m. next Thursday.

Guest speaker for the annual event will be Dr. Clayton Yeutter, administrative assistant to Governor Norbert Tiemann.

Close to 150 persons are expected to attend. About 70 students and faculty members will be honored.

Participating honoraries include PKP, national general scholastic, ODK, senior men's leadership and Waakiya, senior women's leadership.

New fellowship members will also be announced at the dinner.

PKP's annual initiation precedes the dinner at 5 p.m. in Rm. 312 Student Center. Nineteen initiates will be inducted into the local chapter.

Police Training Course Offered

By Tim Herek

Can police officers learn enough in a one-week training program to assist them in day to day police work?

Yes, says G. L. Kuchel, director of the law enforcement and security program at Omaha U, who is head of the Advanced Training Program for Law Officers being held at the University.

Professional Training

The object of the training program is to provide professional training to law enforcement officers of Nebraska in activities which utilize a great proportion of their time.

"Most small communities provide no formal training for police officers," says Kuchel. "This is the first formal training for most of the participating officers."

Communities with population in excess of 5,000 were invited to send officers to the training course.

Police More Efficient

Kuchel points to a questionnaire sent to department heads of the officers who participated in the program last October.

One hundred per cent of those replying say the information received in the training program has helped them become much more efficient in day to day police work.

The fourth and final phase of the training course ends today. Approximately 200 police officers participated in the program; representing every section of Nebraska.

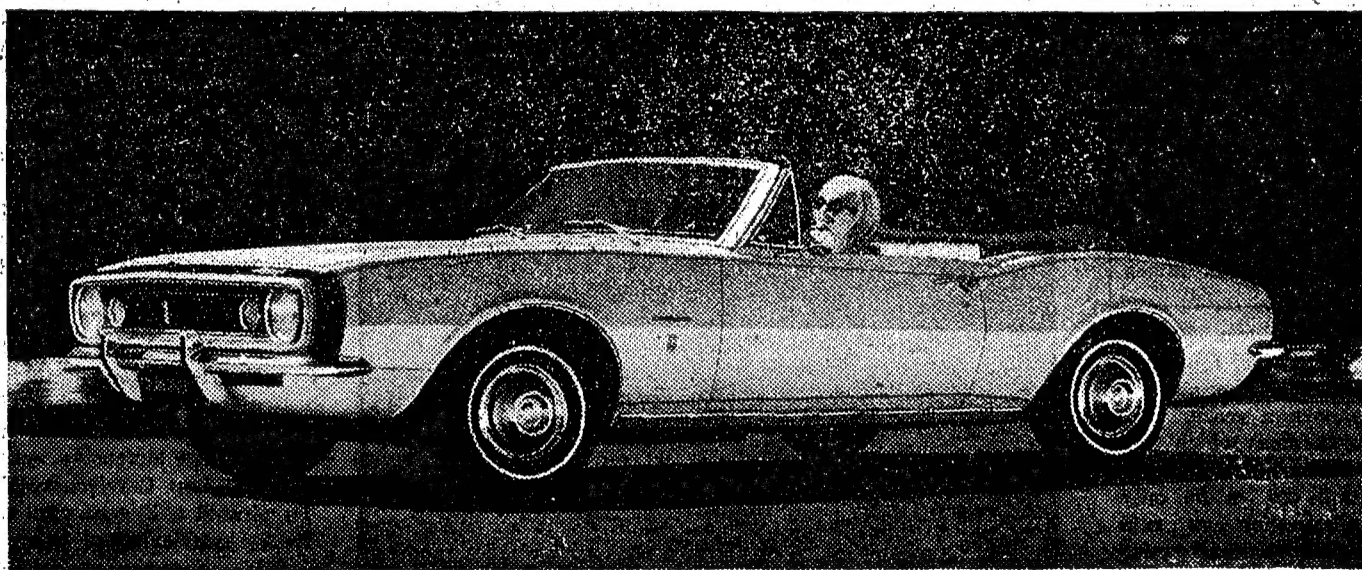

Program's Future

What is the future of the program?

"It will be continued on an advanced level," says Kuchel. "Federal funds for fiscal year 1967 have been received to finance the program."

The law enforcement head says, "next year more specific and detailed courses will be offered to the police officers of Nebraska."

Student Center Committees Have Active First Semester

By Clarence W. Wilson

The Milo Bail Student Center of the University of Omaha has finally taken its rightful place in the center of student activities this past year.

Fred Ray and his hard working group have provided many things to entertain the student and add to his education at the same time.

The group has been a new occurrence on campus, because they are entirely in student control. The students themselves decide how activity money is to be spent.

The stated aim of Fred Ray at the outset of the organization of these committees was to make the student center the "center of the student's activities" and in this way help to "tie the student to the university, to make the university and the college experience mean more in the life of the student."

Seven Committees In Group

This first year has been an active one for the committees. Organized at the end of last semester, they started their activities in February.

The Special Events committee sponsored the OU Scholastic Bowl which was won by the Chi Omega sorority team on February 23. The OU Bowl was held in conjunction with the G-E College Bowl and OU's team which went to New York.

The Special Events committee also sponsored the 100 club, which turned the Student Center into a night spot and brought David, della Rosa and Brooks to the OU campus for four nights in March.

The Exhibits committee has brought numerous exhibits to the campus.

The Recreation committee sponsored bridge and pool tournaments in the game room.

The committees in the Student Center group number seven. The whole thing in its infancy will be even more busy next year.

OU's 'Big Night Out'

The Calendar and Communications committee have already compiled next year's activities calendar.

The House and Grounds committee handle most of the bulletin boards in the Student Center.

The Films committee has been bringing many Monday OUampi epics. The Films started February 6 with "Guns of Navarone" and will end Monday with "The L-Shaped Room."

The Films committee also is sponsoring the "Big Night Out" next Friday. "The Longest Day" plus "Gunga Din Magoo" and two "Our Gang" comedies, will turn the Eppley Conference Center auditorium into a cinema house.

The Concerts and Lectures committee have sponsored the Associations concert, the lecture and film by Dr. Thubten Jigme Norbu, and the Midnight Slapstick concert presented on April 29.

The Midnight Slapstick brought OU students to the Orpheum Theatre for a concert on the Orpheum's giant Wurlitzer organ and a silent slapstick movie.

If the activities for next year are anything like the samplings offered this semester, OU students are in for lots of entertainment.

The Grind

New officers have been elected for Omaha Collegiate Council for the 67-68 school year.

David Forbes, OU, is the president. Other officers include: Sarah Hitchcock of Duchesne, vice president; Gary AnCoin, of Methodist School of Nursing, treasurer and Dubleen Hayes of St. Mary's College, secretary.

Mary McMullen was crowned sweetheart of Delta Sig last week at the fraternities annual dinner dance.

Other candidates vying for the title were Dava Fuerst, Kathryn Specht and Lani Stockman.

Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary, elected new officers for next year on Thursday, May 4.

They are: president, La Rae Kopit; vice-president, Ilena Stephenson; secretary, Elaine Meyers; treasurer, Karen Tallman; historian, Sue Nardie; junior advisor, Melanee Duvall; and senior advisor, Jan Archer.

Immaucos has elected new officers for the coming year. They are: president, Claire Ferrigo; vice president, Christie Winheim; and secretary-treasurer, Grace Hansen.

The Nebraska Home Economics Association will give a scholarship for the third year to a home economics major in the state. A scholarship committee will decide among the applicants.

Newman Club has elected new officers for the coming year.

George Ryck will head the list as the new president. Other officers are: Don Hisicki, vice president; Jack Filipowski, treasurer; Jim Mulny, secretary.

Delta Sigma Pi, business honorary, initiated new members last week.

The new actives include: Mary Archer, Bob Lindberg, Gil Schnack, Bill Sneckenberg, Gary White and Jack Younger.

Sigma Phi Epsilon will have its annual Sweetheart Dinner Dance May 19 at Nasr's.

Sig Ep sweetheart will be announced at the dance, and pledges will present their paddles to the actives.

Ann Grzywa was elected as the Theta Chi Dream girl at their annual dinner dance last week-end.

Ann works for Northwestern Bell in revenue accounting.

Alpha Xi Delta pledges made a successful skip May 3.

The pledges hid at the Indian Hills, and took with them, as captives, Betty McGinnis, Janice Norton and Linda Lindamood.

Montessori Method Stimulates Interest

What is Montessori?

All good students in the department of education know, don't they?

Montessori is a method of teaching, or rather, directing learning. It was started about the turn of the century by Dr. Maria Montessori, Italy's first woman doctor.

The method is best suited for two to five-year-olds because at this age they are beginning to understand and are not yet in kindergarten.

Every experience is a learning device. The teacher is not a teacher but a directress. She stimulates the pre-schooler's interest and curiosity. She does not interrupt him, even if he is on the wrong track. Each child works independently and at his own speed.

There are two schools in Omaha which practice the Montessori method, the Montessori School of Omaha and Wisdom School.

In the United States there are three schools in Chicago, New York and Los Angeles which give instruction for Montessori directresses. An eight-week course for college credits and a year under an approved Montessori teacher is necessary to become an American Montessori Society directress.

As a college girl, you'll learn psychology, sociology, philosophy, economics and more.

As a United Stewardess, you'll put them all to use.

(And fly to the places you've read about.)

Naylor: Tuition Lowering Depends On Peoples' Vote

By John Weber

"The Administration and the regents are committed to lowering tuition as quickly as possible," says Acting President Naylor.

However, Dr. Naylor told The Gateway, "It doesn't seem likely that we will lower tuition for next year. The door is not completely closed."

Dr. Naylor said the budget situation will be "constantly reviewed and assessed. At the quickest possible time, tuition will be lowered. Whether this is September (1967) or February (1968) remains to be seen."

Voters To Provide Key?

The key to unlock the door to lower tuition "rests with the approval of the people of the merger. All concerned will have to work actively to see that the merger is approved."

The 1967-68 budget will be presented to the Board of Regents next Thursday. Tending to cloud the budget crystal ball are students.

Of the three current sources of revenue: (1) the two-mill tax; (2) state aid from junior college bill and (3) tuition and fees—students will contribute 70 per cent.

This will be a drop of four per cent from the current year. The junior college bill funds make up the difference.

Students Unpredictable Factor

Students are the most unpredictable portion of budget planning. Their number and the hours they take hinge on several factors, according to Dr. Naylor:

- (1) The war situation,
- (2) The improved image of the University,
- (3) Tuition and fee schedule at other institutions of higher education in this region, and
- (4) Proposed Federal legislation for tax relief."

Taking these factors into account, Naylor predicts a 10 per cent increase in fall enrollment over the previous year. Thus the 1967 fall enrollment would be just over 9,000—about the same as in 1965.

Council Election Results

For all the fanfare, Wednesday's student elections produced about 110 votes less than one year ago.

Unofficially, 1,443 students voted Wednesday compared with approximately 1,550 for last year.

Unofficially 498 of 1,248 eligible freshmen voted. That's 40 per cent.

The sophomores' response was almost the same. Of 931 full-time sophomores, 379 voted. Percentagewise that's 40.7.

The juniors cast six more votes than the sophomores, who had 256 more eligible students. Some 385 of 675 juniors voted, or 57 per cent.

Several weeks ago, the Student Council defeated a motion permitting that organization to release individual voting figures for publication by The Gateway.

Through an unofficial channel, The Gateway obtained these figures. Although not unofficially released, they are deemed important.

Therefore in the interest of the entire student body, The Gateway is publishing the figures for the top four men and top four women for each class.

Major In Medical Technology Is Phi Kappa Phi May Scholar

"I have a gripe about lab courses," says Mary Anderson. The medical technologist major thinks, "They are only one more credit for an extra 4-hour lab."

Otherwise the sophomore thinks she is in a good program at OU.

Mary has earned a 3.8125 average for 32 hours. Since she ranks at the top of the Engineering and Technology College underclassmen this semester, Phi Kappa Phi recognizes her achievement.

Each month the national scholastic honorary acknowledges outstanding academic achievement.

Mary . . . Scholar

Mary is in a six-semester program at OU. Upon graduation, she will spend 12 months gaining practical experience in a hospital.

"I have always been real interested in medicine. My sister was in nurse's training at OU," she said.

"From the way she talked, I didn't think nursing would interest me," she added. So the 20-year-old coed entered medical technology.

What exactly does a medical technologist do?

Mary sums up her future duties by saying, "You work mostly in the lab doing research on cancer and diseases." She also mentioned more commonplace activities such as analyzing blood samples.

She sees a "large demand" in her field since not too many students are graduating in it. "I think there were two this year from OU," she added.

Do any males go into that field?

"I haven't heard of any guys at OU. But I don't think it's against the rule," says Mary.

Mary Anderson graduated from North High in 1965. She entered OU last spring with a regents scholarship.
